[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JANUARY 21.

Proclamation by King William.

LONDON, Jan 18.—King William has issued the following proclamation: In consequence of an appeal of the German Princes and free towns for us to restore the German empire, we announce that we consider it our duty to fatherland to accept the Imperial Dynasty. Henceforth we and our successors will bring to the title of Emperor the hope that God will vouchsafe a blissful future to fatherland, and under our auspices its ancient splendor, we undertake the task, conscious of our duty to preserve with Germany, the rights of the German empire and its members; to maintain the peace and support and strengthen the independence of Germany, in the hope that the German people will reap, in a lasting peace within our boundaries, the fruits of our bloody battles, and be safe against a renewal of a French attack. God grant we and our successors may protect the empire, not with warlike conquest, but by works of peace, freedom and civilization.

Dispatches via London.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—It is said that the Duke of Mecklenberg is marching on Beines.

Bourbaki resumed the attack against Werder's entrenched position, but was again repulsed without serious loss, and commenced to retreat southwest.

The bombardment is stronger.

Granville accepts the offered indemnity for English vessels sunk in the Seine.

French agents are in Ireland buying all purchasable horses.

At Woolwich a gun was tested successfully with a charge of 130 pounds of powder. It is said to be an unprecedented charge.

Bourbaki's Operations.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Bourbaki telegraphs on the 16th that he continues his advance toward Belfort. Faidherbe continues marching on Corjie, having taken St. Quentin, and seized two guns and baggage of the French prisoners left by the Germans.

Prussia abandons the intention of capturing French merchantmen for the sake of neutral merchandise. The new rule will be enforced only till February 8th.

Dispatches from Versailles.

VERSAILLES, Jan. 19.—The batteries on the southwest of Paris are advanced to within 800 yards of Fort Montrouge, which replied yesterday with one gun on the west from Issey, firing two guns at long intervals.

The army of Gen. Bourbaki is fully retreating. The attempt to relieve Belfort was completely frustrated.

Accounts from Paris represent terrible damages and sufferings, caused by the bombardment, the shells falling within St. Louis and the Elysee. There have been no sorties within the last 36 hours. The ground is slippery, and the outside lines have been reinforced. The French outworks at Villejuif, silenced at the beginning of the bombardment, have broken out again, and the four long range guns there are doing some wild shooting over the batteries, making it uncomfortable for travelers.

The Pope and King William.

NEW YORK, Jan 20.—The Pope has asked the King of Prussia, by telegraph, to secure his departure from Rome with due honor, if he should leave. The King replied affirmatively, and telegraphed to Florence. The effect was providential.

The correspondence giving the preliminary agreement for the Conference of the Powers, affords a guarantee for the favorable results of the Conference.

Stockholm advices report a bill for an extensive army reorganization.

General Dispatches.

BORDEAUX, Jan. 18.—Bourbaki attacked the Prussians on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, with the object of crossing the Lisolm and Saine at St. Vallest. The enemy resisted, and Bourbaki retired to his former position.

Bullion in the Bank of England decreased £181,800 last week.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Parliament is prorogued for February 10th.

The postponement of the Conference till the 24th is confirmed.

There was a great military pageant at Versailles to-day, in honor of the restoration of the German Empire.

Miss Motley was married to-day in Frampton Church.

A balloon from Paris reports that the city was tranquil on the 20th.

PESTH, Jan. 19.—Both Houses voted the entire Budget after a protracted debate. The harbor of Antwerp is reopened.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—In the Senate, Pomeroy, from the Committee on Public Lands made a written report upon the amendments to the bill to incorporate the Salt Lake and Colorado River Railroad Company. He also reported from the committee a joint resolution for the relief of settlers on public lands, extending for one year longer the time for making their payments. Passed.

On motion of Pratt, the House bill granting pensions to soldiers of 1812 was made the special order for Wednesday next.

Nye, in accordance with previous notice, addressed the Senate on the bill to create a fund to be known as the Mineral Land fund, and for other purposes. The bill provides for the paying over to the Sutro Tunnel Company the proceeds of money received by the United States from the sale of mineral lands; $50,000 to be paid upon the completion of every 500 feet of the tunnel, to be completed within 10 years. Nye, to demonstrate the magnitude of the interest involved in the construction of the Sutro Tunnel, states that the Comstock lode, to which the tunnel was to be constructed, had yielded since its discovery ten years ago, $120,000,000, almost equalling the total yield of silver of the Republic of Mexico. The mines of the lode are now reaching the perpendicular depth of 1,200 feet, and the obstacles encountered thus far show the early abandonment of it. The difficulties in mining are principally the enormous expense of pumping water and hoisting ore, at which 53 steam engines are employed and kept in motion with fire-wood at an expense of several million dollars per annum. The great obstacle in mining was the great increase of heat below the surface. The thermometer at 1,200 feet below the surface standing at 110°, making it almost impossible for man to work without imperilling their health.

Among bills passed by the House to-day was one for the relief of the former occupants of the Military Reservation of Point San Jose.

The President sent the following nominations: Leroy S. Dyer, Agent at Grand Ronde, Oregon; Joe' Palmer, Agent at Siletz.

The Appropriation Committee reported the army appropriation bill yesterday morning. The total amount appropriated by the bill is $27,525,030; which is $2,058,866 less than the appropriation for the army last year.

The Fortification bill was completed in the House Committee yesterday. The appropriations are just half the amount recommended by the chief engineers.

The Committee on Ways and Means will soon discuss the income tax and proposition of Commissioner Pleasanton to abolish it.

Sumner, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, addressed a letter to Secretary Fish requesting him to draw up a bill to be laid before the committee, embodying the recommendations in the President's message, about the Alabama claims. As soon as this is furnished, the consideration of the Alabama claims will be commenced by the Committee.

Internal Revenue.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Since the organization of the Internal Revenue Bureau, in 1862, until the 1st of January, 1871, the full amount collected has been $1,482,000,000; of this total, $1,397,000,000 were collected in the several districts, and the remaining $95,000,000 as direct receipts from the sale of stamps. New York furnished $332,000,000, of which total New York city paid in round numbers $182,000,000. It having been found impracticable to consolidate the Internal Revenue districts in more sparsely settled portions of the country, the commissioner is adopting other methods of reducing the expenses of his Bureau. The reductions in the expenses of the Bureau already amount to about $8,000, and the Commissioner thinks he can dispense with the services of 200 more assistant assessors.

Dispatch from New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Caracas advices report the war in Venezuela over. Maricaibo has been captured by Gusman Blanco, who is now dictator of the country, without a rival.

Breadstuffs firm. Government securities steady. Stocks strong. W. U. Telegraph, 47⅞; Pacific Mail, 42⅛; Wells, Fargo & Co., 35⅛.

WEST INDIES.

HAVANA, Jan. 20.—The steamer Hanover sailed from here Wednesday, but finding two French vessels of war in the offing, she returned and reported. At 9 last night sailed again, accompanied by a Prussian man-of-war.

CALIFORNIA.

Another Railway Robbery.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—While the passengers of the eastward bound train, which left here this morning, were at supper, the lock on the mail car was opened and the car robbed of a package of registered letters and a package containing $10,000 in coin. The train stood in its usual place, the locomotive, express and baggage car standing above the water tank. Both mail agents were at supper during the time the mail car was robbed. So quietly was the work done, the attention of the guard in the express end of the car was not attracted. Immediate search was made by the railroad employees, and the mail sack was found in the freight house platform. Both sides of the sack were ripped open and the registered letters taken out. But two packages of coin were found in the sack. Parties have started in pursuit, and the chances of the robbers getting off are very slim.

San Francisco News.

The Governor's Message.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 21.—The Tucson (Arizona) Citizen publishes in full the message of Governor Safford, delivered before the Legislature. The message devotes considerable space to the Indian question and advocates the [illegible] of the Apaches and placing them on the reservation [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] be [illegible] the climate and [illegible] the habits of the Indians [illegible] fighting for their homes [illegible] and more economical [illegible] regular troops, and asks [illegible] schools. It also recommends the immediate commencement of a Territorial penitentiary, expending the amount of money on hand for that purpose and adding thereto hereafter; represents the sum of $10,000 as appropriated for surveys as inadequate for the extension of surveys as rapidly as settlement advances.

NEW MEXICO.

New Silver Mines Discovered.

SANTA FE, Jan. 20.—A correspondent of the Daily Post, gives the following accounts of the yeld of ore from the new silver mines near Ralston. Returns, he says, have been received for ore sent to Newark, N. J., and New York to be assayed, showing yields, the lowest of which was $66, the highest $8,000, and the average $2,282 per ton. The correspondent complains of a lack of mining tools, fuse, &c., just now, but says that capitalists have ordered all these necessaries, and that by May 1st they will have arrived and several mills will be in operation. Great confidence is felt in the entire development of these mines. The Artesian Well Company, now sinking wells at the new place, twenty miles below here, have already struck water at the depth of 80 feet. Great confidence is expressed that these mines will pay the company.

NEVADA.

Narrow Gauge Railroad.

VIRGINIA CITY, Jan. 21.—The Eastern Nevada Railroad Company filed articles of association yesterday with the Secretary of State. The object of the Company is to build a narrow gauge railroad from Elko to Hamilton by the most practicable route.

Weather clear and pleasant.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

The title of the new King of Spain, done into English, becomes Godlove I.

Paul Morphy is practicing law in New Orleans, and has practically abandoned chess.

The New York Herald speaks of Tweed's donation to the poor as the giving back of a part of the stolen property, and doubts if anybody but his pets will get any of the money.

A correspondent of the London Times, under the influence, probably, of a recent perusal of "What I Know about Farming," calls the Hon. Horace Greeley the "noblest Roman of them all in the agricultural world."

Woman meets woman in Washington, in a contest for and against the passage of a constitutional amendment to extend the suffrage to women. Susan B. Anthony and her allies are to have their headquarters in one of the Senate committee rooms. The opposition is headed by Mrs. Admiral Dahlgren, Mrs. Dr. Wheaton, of Michigan, and other well-known ladies.

Surratt mentioned, in his lecture in Baltimore, an incident which occurred while he was serving in the Papal army. He said that as he and a party of his comrades were sitting together, it was proposed that each should tell how he came to be there. When his turn came, he evaded the truth by saying that a love of adventure had brought him. But a Frenchman said, "I know what brought you here; you are Booth; you killed President Lincoln, and you came here to hide." The Frenchman knew nothing about Surratt or his history, and his remark was the prompting of a mysterious impulse that he could not explain.

THE TERRITORIES.

At Vancouver the idea that G. W. Ford did not drown himself, but disappeared for the purpose of making a sensation, is gaining ground.

A letter from Attanum valley to the Mountaineer contains this intelligence: Our little valley is filling up rapidly, though there is room for a good many more. Plenty of good land, that wants taking, and a finer farming or stock raising country cannot be found in America. We have had but little cold weather so far, and it seems more like spring this morning than the 10th of January. There has not been to exceed two inches of snow at any one time this winter. A Chinook wind comes over the mountains every few days and clears the hills of every particle of snow. The thermometer has ranged from 60° down to 8°. Some of the farmers have commenced plowing and sowing. A school has been started in the upper district with an attendance of 26 scholars. A school house has been commenced in our district. We intend to start a school in the spring. Sabbath school and Bible class are held every Sunday at the house of Mr. Tanner. Too much cannot be said about the good work that this good man is carrying on, commencing early last summer, he has continued on through the fall up to this time.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Bombardment of Longwy.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—A dispatch from Arlon states that the bombardment of Longwy continued vigorously. Three hundred shells fell in the town.

Slackness of Fire from Paris Forts and German Batteries.

VERSAILLES, Jan. 17.—There has been silence for the last 24 hours with the exception of an occasional bomb from Mont Valerien. For three days batteries have been slack. There are various theories to account for this cession. Some insist that negotiations are pending; that a delegation came out on the 15th for this purpose, and a secret answer was returned yesterday. It is rumored the Germans have asked three days armistice. Batteries are being reared and a general attack is said to be organized for to-morrow.

The Eastern Department.

LONDON, Jan 20.—Gen. Von Werder telegraphs to Carlsruhe that his vanguard is in pursuit of the retreating army of Bourbaki, and that there would be a general advance along the whole line of the German army on the 19th. A Baden brigade is marching to Savaroni.

London Dispatch.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The deaths in Paris from the bombardment are fifteen daily. A Berlin correspondent says Bernstoff is ordered to leave the Conference if the war with France should be discussed.

Severe skirmishing is reported in France, in which the French claim the advantage.

LILLE, Jan. 1[illegible].—Gen. Faidherbe [illegible] Quentin and [illegible] march on Soissons.

Another Sortie.

VERSAILLES, Jan. [illegible].—A sortie from [illegible] the 18th [illegible] forts De[illegible] the French were repulsed. Both sides incurred severe losses.

The bombardment [illegible] of the defences of St. Denis and A[illegible] [illegible] batteries have advanced and are firing [illegible] together with [illegible] batteries have made a great breach in the wall and almost the openings were [illegible] [illegible] toward [illegible] there [illegible] will [illegible].

[illegible] reason to believe that a bombardment of increased severity will be commenced immediately.

Negotiations Believed to be Pending.

LONDON, Jan 20.—The Telegraph's Versailles special says the Germans will have 270 batteries at work against the city in three days. However, the bombardment has slackened and [illegible] hours totally ceased. It is believed negotiations are pending.

England and Italy.

LONDON, Jan 20, Noon.—A dispatch [illegible] [illegible] says the Italian [illegible] has ceased diplomatic [illegible] with the government. The motives that have led to this are unknown.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 22.—Patrick [illegible] was knocked down on Pacific street last night by a fellow longshoreman. His skull was broken and he was taken to the hospital in a dying condition.

In the U. S. Circuit Court cases of A. Lawford, [illegible] Cartwright, J. D. Wilkinson and Edward Winslow, indicted for carrying [illegible] passengers without a license, Judge Sawyer held that the defendants were common carriers and ordered the indictments dismissed.

The robbery of the eastern bound train at Alta, California, yesterday, and the escape of the robbers with $11,000 and registered letters creates not a little surprise here, and it is fairly hinted that there must have been a collusion between the robbers and parties on the train, for it was daylight at the time and the mountains were heavily covered with snow. Parties could not have left the station for other localities without being seen or at least tracked immediately.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—Arrived, the steamer Oriflamme from Portland.

A [illegible] shower fell last afternoon, and it is raining again this evening. Wind south; barometer falling and every indication of the setting in of a storm.

The New [illegible] bark [illegible], the last of the grain ships, sailed for Cork to-day.

[illegible], who murdered another of the same kind in Fresno county, were convicted of murder in the second degree, and sentenced one for the full term of his natural life and the other for ten years. They arrived here this evening en route to San Quentin.

[illegible] H. Steward, a noted horse and cattle thief who escaped from [illegible] jail, was recaptured at [illegible] and taken home for trial. He is said to be one of the gang who were for years the terror of [illegible] owners in Los Angeles and who were partially broken up recently by the citizens.

Arthur Quigley was captured in the Mercantile Library building to-day, in the act of going through all the rooms with false keys.

Casserly's bill to confiscate the Presidio reservation for the benefit of a ring of speculators and squatters, is denounced by the entire population here as an outrage both on the Government and the people of San Francisco. A vigorous protest against its passage by Congress will probably be sent east by telegraph.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA, Jan. 22.—Yesterday an accident occurred at the Golden Age mill, at Silver City, by which W. V. Suply had both bones of the right leg broken.

The yield of ore per day from the leading Comstock mines for the past week is as follows: Savage 190 tons, Chollar-Potosi 285, Yellow Jacket 170, Hale and Norcross 216.

The Sutro tunnel is now in a distance of 1,790 feet. The ground has been hard for a few days but is now improving.

CURRENT NOTES.

The widow of Kit Burns desires the New York Common Council to remunerate her for the rats thrown into the East River when the descent was made upon her husband's pit, and also for a promising hundred dollar bull pup, lost at the same time.

Four thousand tons of teas and silks are now on their way from China to San Francisco to be passed over the Pacific road in bonded cars to the city of New York. If this experiment shall prove a success, the greatest revolution of the age will be effected in the commerce of the world.

By the act of July 13th, 1870, the fourth section of the act of March 3, 1869, entitled, "An act in relation to additional bounties and for other purposes," was repealed, and the time for filing bounty claims under the act of July 28, 1866, (additional bounty,) extended to January 13, 1871. Claims filed after that date will be returned by the Auditor.

A New York paper confesses that the forty one homicides committed in Gotham in 1870 reflect upon the administration of the city government, because they show an utter want of vigilance in the authorities, and a lack of fear on the part of criminals of the laws. This is very true. Probably the carnival of crime will be kept up during the present year. It certainly will go on as long as bravados declare that "hanging for murder is played out."

A correspondent of the Chicago Evening Post, writing from Galesburg, Illinois, January 2d, has the annexed about church division in that locality: The members of the Congregational Church are becoming divided on the subject of retaining Dr. Edward Beecher as pastor. Dr. Beecher has held the position for sixteen years, and it has caused quite a commotion to talk of calling any one else. He is the most powerful man in the orthodox church of our place, and the attempt of forty members to remove him savors of very little common sense. Considerable feeling has already been engendered between the two parties, and a warm time may be expected. Church quarrels are always the bitterest. Perhaps this may be an exception.

WASHINGTON FACT AND GOSSIP.

Senator Saulsbury wanted B. F. Curtis, Millard Fillmore and Gen. Sherman appointed Commissioners to San Domingo, and urged that Congress should appoint them, and not the President.

Perry Fuller, one of the "pillars" of Andrew Johnson's Administration, died suddenly at Washington a few days ago. He and Mrs. Cobb were considered among the most intimate of that President's advisers.

The House Judiciary Committee on the 11th inst. heard the arguments of Victoria C. Woodhull, Mrs. Beecher, Mrs. Hooker, Susan B. Anthony and M. A. S. Riddle, claiming the right of suffrage under the Fifteenth Amendment. About fifty other ladies were present. The committee listened attentively to their speeches, but took no action.

The Democratic caucus of members of the House, [illegible] New York Herald, decided to [illegible] the San Domingo resolution at every [illegible]. The Democratic idea of manifest destiny [illegible] greatly changed since the days of Texas annexation and the Mexican war. Then it was [illegible] "bigger" in it—[illegible] not possibly scare up [illegible].

[illegible] the names of the persons who [illegible] making [illegible]—Geo. L. Woods, [illegible] Thompson, [illegible], B. F. [illegible] and H. H. Hinsdale, of Oregon; F. A. [illegible], J. E. Valentine, W. H. Davis, [illegible] A. Fuller and M. Turner of California; [illegible] Turner, S. T. Gage, Judge E. F. Dunn and [illegible] Hillyer, of Nevada; Judge Wm. [illegible] of Montana, and [illegible] of Utah.

[illegible] Washington [illegible] latest [illegible] evening, [illegible] affairs [illegible] of duty. [illegible] the report of the interview [illegible] between [illegible] New York Herald [illegible] the Herald be at once [illegible] the Department of State, pronouncing it false in every particular. He has [illegible] declined to converse with any one except the President and Secretary of State about the course he will pursue in London. For this reason he has refused [illegible] dinner lest he might be betrayed into saying something about the mission [illegible].

[illegible] The [illegible] franking privilege was [illegible]. In the Senate Mr. Trumbull [illegible] his bill making it a misdemeanor for members of Congress to [illegible] office from the Executive. Mr. Trumbull made a few remarks in support of the bill, after which Senator Morton, who seems to have been waiting for this measure since the last session, delivered a short but powerful speech in which he [illegible] the whole project, [illegible] and showing [illegible] not constitutional. The bill does not seem to have received much attention from Senators [illegible] Mr. Trumbull, and it was [illegible] what was its real effect until its provisions were explained and exposed to-day by Mr. Morton.

Joseph [illegible] Carpenter, of Philadelphia, has been notified by the Secretary of the Treasury of the acceptance of his bid for manufacturing adhesive stamps. [illegible] will hereafter be printed on the same kind of paper as is used for the United States currency, which is to be furnished by the Government without the water mark. The contract specifies that new plates shall be engraved, and all the stamps prepared in two different colors by plate printing. One of the colors is to be a fugitive ink so that any attempt to remove the cancellation by chemicals will instantly deface it, and thereby prevent its being used. The vignette of the general stamp will be that of Washington, the same as at present, but the border and lathe work will be of entirely new designs. There is to be an additional stamp of the denomination of $500, the highest at present being but $200. Both of these [illegible] be printed in three colors, and the design [illegible] a specimen of superior workmanship. The contract also specifies that the engravings of all private dies for proprietary stamps and the printing of the same shall be done by Mr. Carpenter, who [illegible] authorized to imprint [illegible] stamps [illegible] drafts, checks and other [illegible] stamps. The number of adhesive stamps of the various denominations [illegible] during the past year was [illegible]. The balance of the stamps issued for furnishing beer and whisky [illegible] will be awarded as soon as the Secretary of the Treasury [illegible] the arrangements for [illegible].

The Daily Oregonian

MONDAY MORNING JANUARY 23 1871

A Good Example

British Columbia has a white population about equal to that of this city Its sources of trade are not extensive being confined to the mining districts of the north Half the population of British Columbia and the greater part of its wealth are in Victoria and its immediate vicinity Of course the trade of Victoria cannot be great, and it is subject to depressions occasioned by unpropitious mining seasons. But Victoria has always manifested a good deal of enterprise in providing facilities for extending her trade The energy she has evinced in this direction would have done credit to a city of greater pretensions Large sums of money have been expended in opening roads, and a disposition has been manifested to make as much as possible out of the opportunities presented

In the British Columbia Legislature now in session the same kind of enterprise is exhibited in a very striking manner The appropriations that are being made for opening roads and promoting the commerce of the country are so large as to strike with surprise any one who considers the smallness of the population and the yet limited resources of British Columbia. We give a few instances taken from Legislative proceedings Amount appropriated for the Yale-Lytton road, $16,000 for the Clinton and Camerontown road, $12,000, for the trail through Eagle Pass to Kootenay, $3 000 for the Burrard Inlet road $1,500 for the New Westminster Yale sleigh $2 000 for the New Westminster district, $1 000 for the Chilliwhack district, $750 for the Omineca road, $15,- in the Cariboo district, $2,000, Skeena river to Tatlah lake,

We have given the above items in detail, are only a part of the appropriations extend the trade of Victoria and build up country the purpose of indicating readers here the extent of the effort which being made in British Columbia, a comparatively small and poor community to develop resources to enlarge the trade and improve the general condition of the country For telegraph lines surveys and providing mail facilities large appropriations are made

It should be borne in mind that while the people of British Columbia are cheerfully taxing themselves for these purposes they are supporting an enormously costly Government an English community the ern nt is somewhat aristocratical, to support the dignity always maintained where the British flag establishments and salaries though the people British Columbia bearing the burden costly government, they are appropriating large sums for internal improvements endeavoring to establish a sure basis of future prosperity

Every traveler must admit that the English people have a habit of looking more for the future than our own people have What ever they do is done with a view to durability and permanence They are accustomed to look ahead Doubtless they are slower in many things than our people but they generally build on sure foundations Our neighbors of British Columbia are making large investments in public improvements —that is to say large investments when their wealth and present resources are considered—because they expect to build up their country and remain in it They look to the future They do not allow the short-sighted policy of sitting still in the hope that chance will do for them what they ought to do for themselves.

Their policy should be commended to the people of this State and especially the people of Portland For money invested in furthering public improvements there is certainty of greater returns here than in British Columbia We see what the people over there are doing Is it not a good example?

Dirty Linen Washed in Public

There is a little row in the Democratic family of this city and "leading Democrats" are giving their plans to the public free The organ has never liked the new police arrangements Not that it objects to taking away from the city their right of self-government but because it dislikes the Oro Fino clique, to whom the control of the affairs has been given The organ charges that the police here is used to persecute, and accuses the Board of arbitrary rule declares that a certain order said to have been issued "partakes of character of those issued by despots to the secret service, and is "an exercise of arbitrary power, which if carried out would transfer the police force of this city into a secret organization puppets to be used to subserve personal ends alone It is charged further that the police management is incompetent" and "inefficient," and certain vices in the New York system, which the World of that city condemns, are declared to exist here.

The reader will perceive that this is the testimony of the "official organ of the Democratic party" as to the working of the new police system. It is a more severe attack than any Republican has yet made Taking the official organ's word for it, the practical workings of the system are not such as afford much inducement to have it continued

Doubtless if the Chairman of the Police Board thinks it worth while to notice the organ's attacks, an opinion from an "Oro Fino" standpoint regarding said organ may be looked for This washing of Democratic linen—linen which is quite as badly soiled as any that Ben Hayden ever divested himself of—is somewhat edifying to the public, even though it does the Democratic managers no particular credit

The Herald has a letter from Washington in which it is alleged that "Senator Williams is indifferent to any further railroad aid for Oregon," and that "he is secretly" working against any further such aid This, of course is without foundation But if it were true that Senator Williams is now "indifferent as to the fate of pending railroad measures, with what consistency could the Herald or its party censure him? Only six months ago that paper vehemently denounced and bitterly maligned him for his advocacy of measures designed to secure "railroad aid for Oregon," stigmatized his action as corrupt and ruinous to the State, and appealed to the people to defeat him in order to defeat the very railroad projects that he is now complained of (but unjustly) for being "indifferent to The dishonest course of the Democratic politicians of Oregon on this subject should cause them to be hooted out of sight whenever they begin to talk of railroads by an indignant people

The Contract with the Pacific Railroads

On the 6th of December a bill was introduced in the House of Representatives which in effect provides that for all sums due or which shall become due the United States for interest paid for any company the Government shall have a lien on the lands of the company The bill was referred to the appropriate committee It has been reported on by Representative Sargent of California The report gives a history of the Pacific Railroad the terms upon which it was authorized to be constructed quoting the acts of Congress the amount of bonds issued, and the recent opinion of the Attorney General of the United States

The committee says that the Union Pacific and the Sioux City and Pacific Companies have responded that the law does not require them to pay either principal or interest of the bonds until their maturity The other companies made no answer and none of them have made any payment

They deny the right of the United States to retain on interest account more than half the amount of their earnings for transportation of Government mails, freights, troops, etc

The bill reported by Mr Sargent to the House will give the United States, practically, a mortgage for the debt due from their debtor The only purpose, then, to which the lands or their proceeds, in the first instance can be applied, is the payment of debts contracted in constructing the road, unless these debts be otherwise adequately secured These debts are either to the holders of the first mortgage bonds, the subsidy bonds, or the general creditors of the companies, with or without specific security To some or all of these the lands should be applied, at least so far as necessary to their payment

The claim of the Government is paramount There is no reason why such vast interests should be left to the exclusive decision of the companies, as they are not alone interested

It is only the dictate of justice that property granted on conditions should be made to execute the conditions, and especially when no longer required for any other purposes of the grant This will only give to the Government the performance of a condition created for its benefit, regardless of all others.

The committee conclude by saying that no reasons exist for conceding more than the law has already conceded. The concessions have already been on a grand scale. By them, subject to the rights reserved, the Government should abide

To secure the performance of obligations imposed by law this bill is submitted, with a recommendation that it be passed.

The Hasty Zeal of Senator Williams' Friends

The scheme of the delegation who made the faux pas at the White House a few days ago, in urging a Cabinet appointment for Senator Williams obtained the following notice in the New York Herald on the 5th inst It will be seen that the Herald does justice to Williams' ability and concedes that he has performed very important national services during the past six years

A number of prominent Republicans from the Pacific coast, including Representatives from California, Oregon, Nevada, Montana, New Mexico and Arizona, have formed a combination to push Senator Williams, of Oregon, into the Cabinet They addressed a letter to the President to-day asking when it would be convenient for him to give them an interview. They received a reply this afternoon stating that the President would see them to-morrow at twelve o'clock Notwithstanding the fact that the Pacific slope has gone over to the Democracy the Republicans of that section feel that Senator Williams is entitled to some recognition by the Administration on account of his distinguished services to the party and the country during his Senatorial career It seems to be well understood here that before the close of the present Congress Attorney General Akerman will voluntarily retire from the Cabinet for the purpose of devoting himself to the more congenial pursuit of the practice of his profession in Georgia When this occurs the Republicans of the Pacific coast are anxious that Senator Williams shall be Akerman's successor in the Cabinet This will be the subject of their interview with the President to-morrow. It is understood that the President has already spoken of Senator Williams favorably in connection with some prominent appointment after the expiration of his Senatorial term Last summer, when General Cox retired from the Interior Department and some of Senator Williams' friends urged his appointment to that position the President replied that he would make provision for him when the proper time arrived, meaning before he left the Senate The ability of Senator Williams as a lawyer has long been recognized by his fellow Senators, and it peculiarly fits him for the position of Attorney General He is the author of some of the most important measures enacted since the close of the rebellion He drew and advocated successfully the bill for the more efficient government of the States lately in rebellion, better known as the Military Reconstruction bill He is the author, too, of the famous Tenure of Office bill, and had a good deal to do with the Civil Rights bill and kindred measures of national importance It is hardly to be expected that the President will commit himself to the Pacific Coast delegation when they call upon him, to-morrow, but it is believed when Akerman goes out Williams will be his successor

"Hon J R McLain, member of the Legislature from Baker county, has written a letter to the Bedrock Democrat, which is copied by the Herald. The letter appears to have been written for the purpose of expressing the writer's regrets that he did not accept an opportunity to "make a stake," as he calls it, in the Legislature No doubt it irks him when he thinks of the wiser and more profitable course pursued by "Hons" Burnett and "Jo" Wells of Jackson county They called it "salt" "Hon" McLain calls it "a stake" The latter gentleman may be expected to do better next time —that is, if he ever gets back to the Legislature

We have information from Washington that Congressman Smith has introduced a bill to improve the Columbia river between Celilo and the mouth of Snake river, which was referred to the Committee on Commerce It is too late for this bill to pass, but the substance of it may be incorporated into the general appropriation bill It is more national than any of the other bills introduced for the improvement of the larger rivers, and is thought to stand a better chance to be favorably considered by the committee Congress seldom makes large appropriations for improvements which only benefit a single State

The bill reported by the Senate Postal Committee a few days ago to authorize the establishment of an ocean mail steamship service between the United States and Australia, directs the Postmaster General to contract with William H Webb, Ben Holladay and associates for carrying mails monthly between San Francisco and Australia by a line of steamships, at a compensation not exceeding $500,000 per annum It is believed the bill will pass

The Boise City Democrat of Jan 14 chronicles the destruction by fire, on the night of the 11th, of the new Catholic Church in that city, which was consecrated on Christmas eve. The fire was occasioned by a defective flue It was the handsomest church edifice in Idaho Territory, and cost $5,000 The library of the Rev Fathers Mesplie and Poulin, and the fine melodeon of the Good Templars, also in the edifice, were burned The total loss was about $8,000—no insurance

OREGON

A son of Wm Bowers, living in Benton county about three miles from Albany has been pronounced hopelessly insane

Albany papers say that buyers at that place are offering $1 per bushel for wheat, but are not anxious to purchase at that figure

There is a strange mortality among milk cows at Salem Several have died suddenly, showing no signs of disease till a few minutes before dying

On the 6th inst fifteen vessels were in Coos Bay All of them would take cargoes of coal and lumber Empire City is rapidly improving

The swamp land ring, headed by Gov Grover and leading Democrats," have "swamped" nearly all the Tillamook country, and are trying to gobble it up. So says a report from Salem

The Mountaineer says that it has heard of three or four families at the Dalles who are actually in want, and that at times during this winter, some of them have nearly starved or frozen to death

Last week says the Albany Register, nearly one hundred thousand dollars in coin was paid to our farmers in this city for wheat There are still a few bushels of wheat unsold, taking the "chances" for a further raise

The Statesman says that commissions of militia officers are being made out by direction of the Governor So we may suppose that Brigadier General Octavius Flavius Tintinnabulum will soon be ready for the war path

The Salem factory company have elected the following officers President, John F Miller, Vice President, Daniel Waldo, Secretary, Walter Jackson, Treasurer, W S Ladd, Directors, John F Miller, Daniel Waldo and W. S Ladd

The Statesman says a man named Bean has a project for constructing a "raw hide telegraph line" from that place to Tillamook Heads There is danger that in summer the hide might "tighten up" and draw Salem over to a less commodious site on Tillamook Bay

From the Dalles paper We noticed that the last steamer that arrived at Portland from San Francisco brought up butter, eggs, potatoes and barley But as we, of The Dalles, send to Portland for our hay and oats, and most of the year for eggs and butter, we have concluded not to make any comments on the above. There is a screw loose somewhere

From the Salem Statesman of Sunday While standing on the platform, waiting for the train, yesterday, we noticed a large pile of flour and general merchandise waiting transportation to Portland Mr. George Eades, freight agent, informed us that it would take three cars to carry it as there was about fifty four tons in all The freight the day before was much heavier, it requiring five cars, four for flour—which took about twenty tons apiece—and one for merchandise The travel on the road is very good, a full car almost every trip.

From the Salem Statesman A gentleman, at some distance from this place, is said to have written an earnest inquiry to "the retired statesmen," who is supposed to be "feeding his swine" over in Polk, requesting to know how the swamp land war is being waged, and received a characteristic answer to the effect that the candidates for swamp and overflowed lands were laying claim to every swamp, every, river, every marsh, every pond and every lake, except, perhaps, "the lake of fire and brimstone," which they may expect to share in without claiming it under the laws of Oregon

From an Albany paper Recently two ladies were driving into this city, riding in a buggy Arriving near the depot they espied a train rapidly making its way over the road The ladies stopped their buggy and screamed, waving a handkerchief As soon as the train approached within hailing distance it was brought to a stand still, and the polite conductor inquired what was wanted One of the ladies responded that they wanted him to stop the train right there until they could drive their pesky horse across the railroad track. The ladies drove on, and the conductor was so dumbfounded at the coolness of the request that he failed to acknowledge the graceful thanks of the twain, for his politeness, after they had crossed the track

An inch of snow fell at Olympia on the night of the 18th inst.

A few days ago one of the wharves at Tacoma slid out into the bay and went adrift. Water is too deep for wharf building

The Congregational Church at Seattle has by a unanimous vote asked Rev. John F Damon to remain its pastor for another year. He has accepted.

A dispatch from Helena, Montana, of the 20th, gives this Nellie Montgomery was murdered in her own house last night, having been stabbed through the temple in a drunken row. John Hanson, the supposed murderer, has been arrested, and will be examined to-morrow.

From the Olympia Tribune A large audience assembled last evening at the Presbyterian Church and listened with marked attention to an address from Gov Salomon on the causes, objects and probable results of the present Franco Prussian war. The audience expected an able address, but were not prepared to hear the German cause so completely and eloquently vindicated

MONDAY MORNING, JANUARY 23, 1871.

CITY.

THE NULLIFICATION OF AN ORDINANCE.—Mr. Hallock informs us that the Board of Police Commissioners had nothing to do whatever with the matter of deciding that flags should not be placed on premises where small pox exists. We are not disposed to do any injustice to the Board or any one else in connection with this matter. We supposed the Board to be responsible, because the police acts under the general supervision of that body, but Mr. Hallock's denial is sufficient on that point. The main point in our charge, however, was, that the ordinance had been nullified by somebody who had no authority or right to do so, and this remains unanswered. Mr. Hallock says that the course since pursued was resolved upon by the Mayor and some of the Councilmen, at not informally one Sunday morning when Mr. Carson was taken down with small pox. We cannot see that this mends the matter at all—the responsibility is only shifted. By what authority do the Mayor and some of the Councilmen, acting not officially, assume to set aside a law of the city?

AID FOR THE GERMAN WIDOWS AND ORPHANS.—The Deutsche Zeitung acknowledges the receipt by the German Patriotic Aid Association of the following sums from Canyon City: M. S. Hellman $10, Gundlach Bros. $20, F. C. Sels $5, Henmeyer $5, E. J. W. Stemme $5, Phil. Metschan $5, George A. Biesen $5, Henry R. Sels $5, A. Abel $5, George Gruner $5, M. Lorch $5, H. Wiemann $5, John Schmidt $5, John F. Wolfinger $5, Henry Benz $5, George Martin $5, J. M. Shoer $5, N Wolff $5, A Hacheney $5, H. Koch $5, L. Strasser $5, F. Schmadeche $5, H. Hoghan $2 50, H. Buettner, $2 50, H. G. Huss $2 50, Wm. Reisel $3, Charles Frey $2 50, M. Wilson $2 50, U. Miller $2 50, Charles Meyer $2 50, Jacob Steiner $2 50, Charles Wagner $2 50. Total $155 50.

A DANGEROUS RAID.—Yesterday afternoon a wild and enraged steer created a first-class sensation in the streets of our city. He had escaped from the slaughter-pen north of the city, and he not only refused to be driven back, but refused to be driven anywhere in particular. He chose his own course himself, and the men employed at the slaughter house were compelled to hunt him down on horseback and with revolvers. The animal ran into the city and through the streets, furiously shining at people on foot and clearing the streets of promenaders with the most amazing celerity. The man on horseback finally ran him down and killed him near the upper end of the city. When brought down he had five balls in various parts of his body.

PERSONAL.—Mr. J. B. Underwood, Postal Agent, returned Saturday from a tour of Puget Sound, having gone over there for the purpose of arranging some of the mail arrangements. Judging from the flattering remarks of some of the Sound papers, Mr. Underwood was succeeding in putting the Puget Sounders, for once, in good humor.

Gov Salomon, of Washington Territory, is expected to arrive here in a day or two, en route to Ohio, whither he is going on business, partly connected with the scheme of German emigration from Illinois to Washington Territory.

REAL ESTATE DOWN THE RIVER.—We learn from a gentleman just up from Kalama, that all the available claims around that new town site have been claimed under the homestead and pre-emption laws. On this side of the river, too, since the surveying party of the Northern Pacific Railroad company commenced surveying on the Oregon side, there has been quite a stir among land owners. Several claims have been located and the price of land has considerably advanced. Everybody is more or less excited, and, of course, everybody is sure he has a big prospect ahead.

STEAMERS TO SAIL.—The propeller steamship Idaho, now en route for this port, is advertised to sail again for San Francisco, on Friday the 27th inst.

The George S. Wright is advertised to sail on Friday, the 27th, for Sitka and northern way ports.

The propeller California will sail for Victoria and Puget Sound ports on Tuesday, Jan. 31st.

SERMONS FOR THE TIMES.—We invite attention to Rev. Mr. Eliot's sermon, delivered yesterday. We had intended to report merely a synopsis of it, but it contains so many of just the right sort of ideas and suggestions that we concluded to print the sermon entire.

A NOTICE.—One of the best opportunities of the season to purchase boots or shoes is offered by Pritzman, Gillihan & Co., of the Little Boot and Shoe store, who are offering their entire stock at cost, with the view of removing to ... there.

FIRE HYDRANT PLANTED.—A new fire hydrant was planted on Saturday, by order of the Council, at the corner of Third and Harrison streets. Another is to be placed at the corner of Fourth and ...

RAN AWAY FROM THE HOSPITAL.—A man named Martin ran away from the County Hospital last Thursday night while laboring under delirium tremens, and has not since been heard from.

A BREWERY TO BE SOLD.—On Saturday of this week Mr. John Dolan, Deputy U. S. Marshal, will go to Corvallis and sell Hunt's brewery, seized for violation of the revenue laws.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE FINO THEATER.—To-night the drama of "The Momentous Question," will be produced for the last time. Miss Gemma will perform the Sailor's Hornpipe; and the entertainment will conclude with the "Conjugal Lesson." It will be seen that the management has reduced the price of admission to all parts of the house.

THE SKATING RINK.—Just as we expected, following the excitement and merriment over the skating scene at OroFino Theater Friday evening, the Skating Rink was literally crowded Saturday evening. Not only was the skating floor full, but the seats on either side the hall were filled the entire evening with interested and highly amused spectators. The scene for three hours was one of the gayest of the gay and there was a regular carnival of fun. A band of music stationed in the gallery added greatly to the sum of the evening's enjoyment. Hereafter Mr. Bradley will have a band in attendance every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The bark Gaugner will be towed to Astoria today by the Dixie Thompson.

Messrs. J. W. Bell & Co. have lately established a brass foundry at the north end of the city.

Mr. George Coggan, of the Monticello and Olympia stage route, is in this city to purchase stock for the company.

The bark Rosedale, mentioned by the San Francisco dispatches Saturday morning, is coming here to load with wheat for Liverpool, under charter to Allen & Lewis.

Capt. West, of Westport, has been contracted with to build a new ferry boat for Mr. Joseph Knott, to run between Portland and East Portland.

The city has an unusual number of idle men in it, many of them, as we learn, employees discharged from the railroad a few days since.

REFORM SCHOOLS.

A SERMON DELIVERED BY REV. T. L. ELIOT AT THE FIRST UNITARIAN CHURCH, PORTLAND, JAN. 22, 1871.

No man cared for my soul.—Psalms cxlii—4.

It is a desolate word. Imagine yourself in any position that warrants it—cut off—left without sympathy, sustenance or succour; but the answer is given by many an outcast. One of them said in the Police Court three weeks since,—"O yes. You give plenty of advice and no help; it's the way with you Christians!" What an awful rebuke, and yet who is to blame? That irresponsible, soulless corporation called the "community," the intangible something called the "public sentiment," that sad reality of human selfishness which answers, under some decent mask, "I have saved myself, my own soul, what should I care for yours and you?" Because we are becoming somewhat awakened with respect to one class of outcasts and criminals, viz. the young offenders and vagrants of the town, I bring up the subject in hope of interesting you, a church, a congregation, standing in Christ's place in the community. Parodying the Lord Jesus, unless we try to do His work, unless we feel an individual responsibility—not a responsibility which simply stirs up, which makes many words, but one which is prepared to act in the great and growing evil. With the subject of a Reform School before us, there come three short questions for consideration: Why? what? and whence? Why should Portland have a Reform School? 2d—What is a Reform School? Lastly—Whence shall it come, or how shall we get it?

1st. Why should Portland have a Reform School? Answer—Because such an institution is the accepted means of stopping a certain evil. What is that evil? It is just here. That we have in Portland a class of lads and girls who are corrupt and vicious, who are going on from bad to worse, and cropping out every year into full-grown criminals. Short and long "locals" and "leaders" in the city papers have attracted your attention. One day it is a school broken into. Another day the mob harrasses some poor Chinaman until he stabs a boy with a knife. Another item reports boys sleeping under wharves. Another finds them drunk, and several describe their petty thefts or bard boldness. I have taken some pains to get definite information with regard to these things, and can assure you that the indefiniteness of these items that appear from time to time, rather conceal than exaggerate the true state of things. Within three weeks one boy, not over ten years old, was arrested trying to pick a till; another for actual larceny; two young girls taken from places of corruption, and two or three mobs of young persecutors of inoffensive persons broken up. The ringleaders in all this mischief are bold and bad, positively vicious characters. They are as blasphemous as they are adroit, as shameless as they are cunning. They make a mock of the law whose powerlessness they well understand; for the courts and police are in a constant dilemma. Not to punish is to encourage; the only means of punishing would necessarily corrupt, by associating them in jail with confirmed villains. At last they turn a corner, and get beyond the patience of the law, and a criminal is added to the penitentiary—added rather, we should say, to society, for like a ghost they haunt the community. Half the time under law and arrest, and half the time out of it, but all the time wicked and reckless, the tools of the enemy of souls for corruption in our midst. Some of these bad boys have respectable parents, so much the worse for them and for us! Their corruption will breed the faster. There is another class for whom we need a place of refuge. They are the younger children of depraved parents, or those habitually drunken and degraded, like the child of that mother who within a year passed from street to street and house to house a miserable sot. There are numbers of parents who belong to the class of "incapables" whose children are ripening for evil; already wayward, living in the streets, going with the crowd of older boys, they are fit subjects for prevention, as the others are for cure. A third class might be made of the girls, of whom I could specify five that have come within my personal knowledge, fit cases for a Reform School, and whose cases are practically hopeless without some such means or refuge where restraint can help out kindness and bring about moral health. I need not tell you that the specification of individuals is but a small part of the evil that we are called upon to handle. I am not here to deal with vague generalities, but you well know what sort of an influence, wide-spread and deep, is carried through all the children of this city by the corruption reeking in the lower strata. Smoke and foul air do not more surely rise, than the corrupting influence which passes from child to child until some of its effects appear in the very nursery—appear among your children, whom you suppose to have no contact with the evil. The low, vile habit, the foul indecent word, the bad hypocrisy, the theft or nameless vice, which some day to your horror you catch an inkling of in your own child, you cannot perhaps trace back any more than you can often the scarlet fever or small-pox, but there it is, hideous and malignant. It is enough that it is lurking in the community, and now you have it in your homes! We know that physical corruption and disease do not always respect the clean house, or fashionable quarter, no more do moral corruption and disease. I see them in the hard face, the look of cunning, the careless jest of the children of many parents who would resent indignantly the thought that there was any danger of their household going wrong! Why should we have a Reform School in Portland? because public economy, individual and household purity, the city's self-respect and the community's name for christianity demand it, because what comes now as an invitation will come afterward as a threat, because neglect turns to vengeance, because as individuals we will have to answer, not only to each other, and to coming generations, but to God and an awakened conscience, if we do not all that is in our power at the right time!

2. What is a Reform School, or House of Correction? It is a place of restraint, education, work, for these outcasts and budding criminals—a home, in one sense, where the law helps good men and women to carry on the work of reform and prevention. I have lately been reading an account of the New York House of Refuge, and it is interesting to see how history repeats itself. Here were the same needs, the same dilemma in the courts, in short, the same condition of things that exist in our community to-day. Earnest people at last petitioned and received a piece of land, upon which were some abandoned Government buildings, and there, 50 years ago, there gathered together a company to inaugurate the undertaking, with 5 girls and 2 boys, brought in by the police as the first wards. This was the beginning. Since then, twelve thousand children have passed through the Institution which has been twice removed and enlarged; and it now contains a thousand inmates, and since then 50,000 have passed through schools of Reform in every part of the country—nor is that word Reform, a satire; although the periods of detention vary from several years down to a few months, an accurate examination and patient following up of the after history of these boys and girls, show that an aggregate of three-fourths of them are permanently saved to society, and many of them to the higher walks of life; all of them to paths of usefulness and safety.

As the visitor approaches one of these Reform Schools, there is but little to remind him of a prison, and before he leaves it, he forgets almost entirely that it is so, in any sense. Of course its whole basis rests upon the power of detention and restraint, and the physical means for this must be had to an extent which carries at once to the mind of the young vagrant the idea that it is of no use to try to run away. With this power of restraint as the great background, and a careful classing of the inmates, as to their relative amount of willful wickedness or power of corrupting others, the other methods of reform all tend toward the creating of that self-respect and self-government, which prepare them when they leave, to take a fair and unencumbered start in society. The boy or girl, when they first enter, are perhaps sullen, restless, unruly—in rare cases need some severe discipline. It so soon appears that they are only hurting themselves, it so soon seems best to accept "the inevitable," that a speedy change is brought about, and you have first the external, and finally the internal co-operation of the subject for reformation. For fifty years the only two rules in the N. Y. Refuge have been, "Tell no lies," and "Do the best that you can"—simple, yet searching, easily understood, never forgotten, and radical. They are good rules for any school, good rules for a family. Of course, you do not imagine by what I am saying that to reform a young criminal, or teach a vagrant is an easy, or take it for granted, thing. It requires all the wisdom, and patience, and knowledge of human nature, all the firmness and kindness which those in charge possess. Systems have had to be invented, modified changed. There are obstinate cases which require long care, so headlong and fixed has become the habit of evil. The great reforming principle is found to be work. A good institution half supports itself by the labor of the inmates; but what is more important, the exacted labor, the hard daily toiling at the trade, or on the farm, eats away slowly the fibers of sinful habit and inclination, gradually awakens a new interest, creates self respect and finally gives a good trade with which to go out into the world. So, as Daniel Webster said, "A House of Refuge is a good place to emigrate from." It does not contemplate simply restraint, it gives the elements of a new life. We have our jails, our county Poor Houses; is there not here, something as important as either? Does it not look like business and public economy to ask for such an institution? If we acknowledge the necessity, the corruption, and have before our eyes the example of how others met it, does not common sense as well as Christian instinct point us one way?

And this brings us to the 3d question, the most important of all. What steps must be taken in order to obtain a Reform School, or House of Refuge, for this community?

1. We ought to know very definitely what we want, how much land, what kind of a building, at what cost.
2. We ought to ask the city authorities either directly or indirectly, to appropriate specifically the proper sum, under proper trust for this purpose.
3. When these two things are accomplished, we ought to ask of the Legislature, the proper change in the city charter, and an act of incorporation, which would make the Institution permanent; and, finally, we ought to know definitely what we are asking for

Too much is expected of our Common Council, when they are asked peremptorily to remedy an evil without showing them in practical detail the way in which it can be done. They can fairly answer to those who are asking or censuring them, "What do you propose to do? What plan do you submit to us for our consideration?" Vague words and complaints are not tangible. I have no doubt that there is the sincerest wish on the part of our city legislators to take some steps toward the establishment of a House of Correction if any definite, well-digested plan were presented to them, with the expression of leading citizens in its favor. All past experience indicates that there must be a move on the part of earnest, philanthropic men and women, who are willing to be workers and trustees for the community, and who stand ready to expend judiciously the fund which the law may create, before legislation can be brought to act. When this quiet work, the result of a comparison of ideas among earnest people has taken shape in a definite plan, then let us petition the city for material aid. I believe most confidently that whenever this movement assumes such a shape, the Council will do its part. Among its powers, is one to create a House of Correction. I believe that when we are ready to go before the Council with a specific plan, they will take the matter in hand, with every wish to see it sustained; that if, for instance, it appeared that ten acres of land could be purchased for $500, a good, plain building, calculated for twenty inmates, for $2,500, and the remaining expenditure to put the Institution ready for use, was $1,500 more, so that $4,000 or $5,000 would be the whole first outlay, I believe, I repeat, that the city authorities would feel warranted by public opinion in passing an ordinance appropriating such an amount, and creating a Board of Managers from among the citizens to carry it out. Another intermediate measure should be that of private subscriptions to an amount necessary to begin, or open the House of Correction in fair working order. I speak of this necessity with confidence, feeling that the start in an undertaking like this has to be made through the earnestness and sacrifice of individuals. When the proper time comes, the city can supplement such action, and the State at last incorporate it, and appropriate funds for its support, out of the general treasury. It would be well, if citizens and the churches should make these offers of voluntary aid, immediately, but at all events, after an appropriation had been made for land and building, a subscription list could be opened. I believe I could pledge this Church to three or four hundred dollars as a Church, leaving individuals to make their subscriptions beside.

And all this could be done in anticipation of the slight legislation necessary to give the House of Correction full powers.

There is a clause of the city charter that needs amending, but it need not stop the wheels. No one doubts that it can be amended the instant the Legislature meets. The city has power only to commit for twenty days, but the clause has right along near it another giving power to create a House of Correction, to which it would only be necessary to add the power of committing minors through their minority; a power which resides in every municipal corporation where there is a House of Reform.

The last measure which will be necessary and advisable is the incorporation to which we have referred. I believe I am right in saying that the best Houses of Correction in the country are those managed in this way. The city and State reserving certain rights give them aid and grant powers, which are then wisely administered by individuals incorporated for the purpose, and responsible to society and public examination for their trust. A Board of twenty or thirty gentlemen and an auxiliary committee of ladies, is the usual form of administration. They elect the Superintendent and Matron, and have supervision of the whole.

Let me close with two words.

To refer you to the fact that it cost $600 simply to convict the boy Burch, of which this county pays the whole, and this city five-sixths. That his term in the penitentiary will cost $550, of which we pay say one-fifth. His whole cost to this community is over $650. And is this all? No. He is criminal and may haunt us for half a century. There are dozens of boys in the same course of ruin! Shall we pay for their reform now, or for their crimes three years hence?

And lastly let me appeal to you to be ready as individuals, to take an interest, and be ready to make sacrifices, in this so worthy and urgent cause. Quote the saying of a notorious thief: "I always considered religion all humbug, and the persons humbugs who were paid for praying and preaching, but when I see people taking young thieves, who are following in my steps, out of the streets to save them from ruin, this is something like christianity!" Depend upon it dear friends! if we are to show forth the Christian life, it must be in ways like this! It is easy to add luxury and comfort to our homes—to work and spend upon ourselves—but can you enjoy all this when you think of the children and hardening young, who infest our streets, contaminating and tainted. All day and all night there are those in our world whose destitution or misery or desperation are woven into the cry, "No man cares for my soul! No man cares for my soul!" The voice of Jesus invites us from the very cross to follow him in this sainted toil to save from ignorance and sin. Take heed that if we fail, that voice does not change to one of warning and condemnation upon our selfish lives! Forever and ever the elect of God are known by their fruits. Of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes. Let us think of these things; ponder them in our hearts; and be ready to do and to spend for the Kingdom of God! Amen.

December is here, with her storms and her rain,
And it makes the folks of cold weather complain.
Hark ye, dear gentlemen, this need not be so,
You can all be kept warm, for O'NEIL & CO
Can fit you so nicely, so snug and so warm,
With CLOTHES that are proof 'gainst the bitterest storm,
And they sell them so cheaply, that all who go there,
Unlike Flora McFlimsey, can find something to wear.

The particular attention of the Farming Community is called to our recent importation of Improved MOLINE PLOWS, greatly superior to any other Moline Plow in the Market, notwithstanding a certain firm, somewhat noted for truth and veracity—"so called"—persist in claiming that they are "bogus," "California made," etc

Don't fail to call and look at one of the MOLINE PLOW Co's LATEST MAKE, and we think you will coincide with a Yamhill Farmer; who, after "looking round" and hearing the old story about bogus Molines, etc., delivered himself thusly: "Well, Myers, I'll just chance a couple of those new plows, and if they are 'bogus,' as that gassy chap above here says, I'll be d—arned if I won't take bogus in mine every time."

Next month we expect another shipment of those justly celebrated BAIN WAGONS, (Have now only a few left of the last lot,) STILL FURTHER IMPROVED over all heretofore received. It is not presumption on our part to say that they are head and shoulders above any other Farm wagon in market, in point of material, workmanship and finish, having achieved a reputation throughout the West, and wherever introduced on the Pacific, second to no other wagon. Some of the first sold here—three years ago,—have never yet had a tire re-set, and our experience has enabled us to order many changes and improvements over the ordinary make of western wagons to meet the wants and requirements of this coast. We shall sell the BAIN WAGON at the lowest possible price for a first-class wagon, and WARRANT them such, and in this connection beg to caution purchasers not to confound them with "inferior makes" that others are, or may endeavor to sell on the strength of the established reputation of the Bain manufacture, particularly after having made repeated and persistent efforts (without avail) to purchase wagons of Mr. Bain for this market

MISS MALONY ON THE MONGOLIAN QUESTION—BRIDGET'S WAYS AND TRIALS WITH A CHINESE.

Och! don't be talkin'. Is it howld on, ye say? An' didn't I howld on till the heart of me was clane broke entirely, and me wastin' that thin you could clutch me wid your two hands. To think o' me toilin' like a nager for the six years I've been in Americky—bad luck to the day I iver left the owld counthry! to be bate by the likes of them! (faix an' I'll sit down when I'm ready, so I will Ann Ryan, an' ye'd better be listenin' than drawin' your remarks) an' is it myself, with five good characters from respectable places, would be herdin' wid the haythens? The saints forgive me, but I'd be buried alive sooner'n put up wid it a day longer. Sure an' I was the granehorn not to be lavin' at onct when the missus kum into the kitchen wid her perlaver about the new waiter-man which was brought out from Californy. "He'll be here to-night," says she, "and Kitty, it's meself looks to you to be kind and patient wid him, for he's a furriner," says she, a kind o' lookin off. "Sure an' it's little I'll hinder nor interfare wid him nor any other, mum," says I, a kind o' stiff, for I minded me how those French waiters, wid their paper collars and brass rings on their fingers, isn't company for no gurril brought up dacint and honest. Och! sorra a bit I knew was comin' till the missus walked into me kitchen smilin', an' says kind o' skoered:

"HERE'S FING WING,

Kitty, and you'll have too much sinse to mind his bein' a little strange." Wid that she shuts the door, and I mistrushting if I was tidied up sufficient for me fine buy wid his paper collar, looks up, and—howly fathers!—may I niver brathe anither breath but there stood a rale haythen Chineser a grinnin' like he'd jist come off a tay box. If you'll believe me, the craythur was that yellow it 'ud sicken you to see him; an' sorra a stitch was on him but a black night-gown over his trowsers, and the front of his head shaved claner nor a copper boiler, and a black tail a-hangin' down from it behind, wid his two feet stuck into the heathenest shoes you ever set eyes on. Och! but I was upstairs afore you could turn about, a givin' the missus warnin', an' only stopt wid her by her raisin' me wages two dollars, and playdin' wid me how it was a Christian's duty to bear wid haythens and taitch 'em all in our power—the saints save us! Well, the ways and trials I had wid that Chineser, Ann Ryan, I couldn't be tellin'. Not a blessed thing cud I be doin' but he'd be lookin' wid his eyes cocked up like two poomp-handles, an' he widdout a speck or smitch o' whiskers on him, an' his finger nails full a yard long. But it's dyin' you'd be to see the missus a larnin' him, and he grinnin' an' waggin' his pig-tail (which was pieced out long wid some black stuff, the haythen chate!) and gettin' into her ways wonderful quick, I don't deny, imitatin' that sharp you'd be surprised, and ketchin' an' copyin' things the best of us will do a-hurried wid work, yet don't want comin' to the knowledge of the family—bad luck to him!

IS IT ATE WID HIM?

Arrah, an' would I be sittin' wid a haythen an' he a-atin' wid drum-sticks—yes, an' atin' dogs an' cats unknownst to me, I warrant ye, which is the custom of them Chinesers, till the thought made me that sick I could die. An' didn't the craythur proffer to help me a wake ago come Toosday, an' me a foldin' down me clane clothes for the ironin', an' fill his haythen mouth wid water, an' afore I could hinder squirrit it through his teeth stret over the best linen table-cloth, and fold it up tight as innercent now as a baby, the dirrity baste! But the worrest of all was the copyin' he'd be doin' till ye'd be dishtracted. It's yersel' knows the tinder feet that's on me since ever I've bin in this counthry. Well, owin' to that, I fell into a way o' slippin' me shoes off when I'd be settin' down to pare the praties or the likes o' that, and, do ye mind, that haythin would do the same thing after me whiniver the missus set him to parin' apples or tomaterses. The saints in heaven couldn't have made him belave he cud kape the shoes on him when he'd be paalin' anything.

[illegible] MINATIVE.

Did I lave fur that? Faix an' I didn't. Didn't he get me into trouble wid my missus, the haythin? You're aware yoursel' how the boondles comin' in from the grocery often contain more'n'll go into anything dacently. So, for that matter, I'd now and then take out a sup o' sugar, or flour, or tay, an' wrap it in paper and put it in me bit of a box tucked under the ironin' blankit the how it couldn't be bodderin' any one. Well, what shud it be, but this blessed Sathurday morn the missus was a spakin' pleasant and respec'ful wid me in me kitchen when the grocer boy comes in an' stands fornenst her wid his boondles, an' she motions like to Fing Wing (which I never could call him by any other name nor any other but just haythin), she motions to him, she does, for to take the boondles an' empty out the sugar an' what not where they belongs. If you'll belave me, Ann Ryan, what did that blatherin' Chineser do but take out a sup o' sugar, an' a handful o' tay, an' a bit o' chaze right afore the missus, wrap them into bits o' paper, an' I spacheless wid shurprise, an' he the next minute up wid the ironin' blankit and pullin' out me box wid a show o' bein' sly to put them in. Och, the Lord forgive me, but I clutched it, and the missus sayin', "O, Kitty!" in a way that 'ud curdle your blood. "He's a haythen nager," says I. "I've found yez out," says she. "I'll arrist him," says I. "It's you ought to be arristed," says she. "You won't," says I. "I will," says she—and so it went till she gave me such sass as I cudn't take from no lady—an' I gave her warnin' from that instant, an' she a-pointin' to the door.—Galaxy Monthly for January.

It appears that ex-Secretary Welles' recent article in the Galaxy concerning the secret efforts to relieve Forts Sumter and Pickens in the early part of the late war were made public only at the instance of prominent Republicans, who advised Mr. Welles to tell all he knew about those matters, hurt whom it might. Senator Wilson says he has long been aware of the facts given by Mr. Welles, and advised their publication as due to history.

Custis Lee, who formerly declined to succeed his father as President of Washington College, has formally accepted.

LAND DEPARTMENT
OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd-numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M. February 15, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have said pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government. The party can leave the land, if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest.

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect. I. R. MOORES,
52tf-dlaw Land Agent O. & C. R. R. Co., Salem

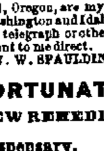
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary.



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of those horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained [illegible] apply immediately, either in person or by letter, [illegible] have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him [illegible] he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Thus, if a person wants a [illegible] and is willing to pay $150 or $200 [illegible] or less as the case may be, he pays [illegible] the lot or block as his individual [illegible] premium being divided among the [illegible] of shareholders. It will be seen [illegible] everything is co-operative and all [illegible] No man can make a [illegible] shareholder. There is no [illegible] the property by some change [illegible] far below the first actual cost. Whether this is liable to happen in the case of this [illegible] must be judged by each [illegible] vance on real estate in this city [illegible] good and at East Portland and [illegible] last year or two, it seems [illegible] values to go back.

In the Riverside Association all [illegible] tions seem to have been taken to [illegible] No person [illegible] pay more than the number of [illegible] three blocks or twenty-four lots, [illegible] the manner [illegible] the operations of the [illegible] restricted in the same manner. The [illegible] of shares may pay down $50 per [illegible] exempt them from all [illegible] share payable with the first [illegible] in the latter case is another (and only one) other assessment of $2 per [illegible] payment of the shares in full, with the [illegible] as above, the holder is entitled to his [illegible] proportion of all the profits [illegible] No officer of the Association [illegible] any pay for services except the [illegible] gets $25 per month [illegible] expenses must be light.

The part of the tract lying along the river is a high plateau, nearly level about [illegible] feet above the water. There is no part of the [illegible] which commands a splendid view of [illegible] and the river for miles up and down stream. That part of the tract lying along the [illegible] four of [illegible] to gardening purposes. A beautiful stream of pure water runs through [illegible] length of this wing of the tract, affording the means of irrigation, and power sufficient to supply pure water to every part of the tract. There is not a waste lot or fractional lot in the entire tract. Under all these advantages it would seem impossible that there [illegible] be [illegible] chance of loss to shareholders. Within a year each shareholder, if he chooses, may get a perfect title to as many lots as his shares may represent, [illegible] may continue his interest, and [illegible] the Association while the organization [illegible]

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

We have been [illegible] those remarks from the fact that the subject [illegible] of homesteads on the outskirts of this city at East [illegible] is being [illegible] discussed here among [illegible] "Riverside," just across [illegible] East [illegible] has been established. The site selected is a tract of land lying a little over a mile south of [illegible] landing. It is shaped like the letter H, one side of which [illegible] half mile in length, borders on the river.

From this portion of the [illegible] which is elevated but a trifle above the [illegible] but is still forty or fifty feet above [illegible] an extensive view of Portland, East Portland, the shipping, and the Willamette river for several miles. The land is very fertile, and is partly [illegible] light fir timber. A tract of land just [illegible] the two rows of blocks, with an avenue [illegible] the west prong of the H (which has [illegible] with that of the east. This [illegible] beautiful little valley, which is now in [illegible] of cultivation. Through its whole length [illegible] the water of which is clear as crystal. [illegible] Association proposes to have water conveyed through pipes to every portion of the homestead.—Daily Bulletin.
